DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 1 to 16 are presented for examination.
2. The indicated allowability of claims 1 to 5 and 13 to 16 is withdrawn in view of the newly discovered defect. Rejections based on the defect follow.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

3. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

4. Claims 1 to 5, and 13 to 16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter. Claims 1 and 2 are directed to decoding a one-point algebraic geometric code. This claimed subject matter lacks a practical application of a judicial exception (law of nature, abstract idea, naturally occurring article/ phenomenon) since it fails to produce a useful, concrete and tangible result.

Specifically, the claimed subject matter does not produce a tangible result because the claimed subject matter fails to produce a result that is limited to having real world value rather than a result that may be interpreted to be abstract in nature as, for example, a thought, a computation, or manipulated data. More specifically, the claimed subject matter provides for decoding a one-point algebraic code based on a series of computation steps. This produced result remains in the abstract and, thus fails to achieve the required status of having real world value.

With respect to claim 15, the language of the claim raises a question as to whether the claim is directed merely to an abstract idea that is not tied to a technology art, environment or machine which would result in a practical application producing a concrete, useful, and tangible result to form the basis of statutory subjected matter under 35 U.S.C. 101.

Conclusion

5. This application is in condition for allowance except for the following formal matters: discussed above, see par. 4.

Prosecution on the merits is closed in accordance with the practice under Ex parte Quayle, 25 USPQ 74, 453 O.G. 213, (Comm'r Pat. 1935).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this action is set to expire TWO MONTHS from the mailing date of this letter.
